Neighborhood Assistance Program	Department of Economic Development	NAP helps nonprofit organizations leverage private-sector funds by providing partial state tax credits (50% or 70% if located in a rural area) to businesses that make contributions to approved community improvement projects. During the Fiscal Year 2022 cycle, tax credits were reserved for organizations providing critical services, with priority given to projects providing job training, education, and those located in previously underserved areas of the state. Other project types include crime prevention, community service projects, and revitalization of community-based buildings and areas.	Nonprofit organizations, private businesses (if the project falls outside the company's normal scope of business; and, will address one or more identified needs in the community; and, qualifies under one or more eligible NAP categories); faith-based organizations (if actively is not inherently religious)  Projects must fall under one of five categories: community services, crime prevention, education, job training, physical revitalization  Note: You cannot have both NAP and YOP concurrent projects unless your organization is applying for different programs serving different populations. Rule of thumb: Serving different populations in different locations.	While many types of projects qualify for the Neighborhood Assistance Program, the Department of Economic Development recognizes as its key priority:  Highly capable, qualified non-profits who focus their efforts on awareness, education, treatment and reduction of opioid misuse to targeted audiences.  Priority consideration may also be given to organizations implementing:  Job training projects that support the development of a well-trained, well-educated workforce, address the gap between available jobs and qualified workers, align training programs to the needs of the community and its businesses, and/or focus on some level of postsecondary job training; and/or,  Innovative programs or projects that facilitate the transition to the workplace and community of military service members.	$12.6M for FY22 (awarded in November, 2021) (The maximum NAP award is $250,000 in 50% credits or $350,000 in 70% credits, enabling an applicant to raise up to $500,000 in donations.) Youth Opportunities Program:	Department of Economic Development	Administered by the Department of Economic Development (the DED), YOP is a tax credit for contribution program created to broaden and strengthen opportunities for positive development and participation in community life for youth 21 years old and under through public-private partnerships. To administer a project, eligible organizations must be approved by the DED through the YOP application process. Under YOP, a tax credit is equal to 50% of eligible monetary contributions and 30% of eligible in-kind donations. The tax credit is used to offset an eligible donor's income tax liability and is claimed when the donor files their Missouri tax return. Through fundraising efforts, approved organizations assume full responsibility for securing the financial support necessary to implement the YOP project. The State's role is to approve projects, provide project oversight, and issue tax credits to eligible donors that contribute to YOP projects	Nonprofit organizations, businesses (implementing projects outside their normal scope of business, with the exception of internship/apprenticeship projects); schools, local governments (may qualify for YOP if proposing a project that fits in an eligible YOP category and is outside the scope of normal government functions); and faith-based organizations (if the project is not an inherently religious activity).  Note: You cannot have both NAP and YOP concurrent projects unless your organization is applying for different programs serving different populations.  Rule of thumb: Serving different populations in different locations.	While there are many types of projects that qualify for the Youth Opportunities Program, the Department actively seeks and prioritizes proposals that directly address the following YOP goals:  Increase the number of at-risk youth receiving a high school diploma or equivalency. Increase the number of at-risk youth that remain in school and improve academic performance. Increase the number of at-risk youth that complete workforce training and job skills development programs. Decrease the number of at-risk youth committing crimes and violent acts.  Priority will also be given to projects that meet one or more of the following criteria: Local, neighborhood, and community-based projects. Projects in areas that have a higher incidence of crime, violence, and poverty.	The total amount of YOP tax credits available for distribution during CY2022 is $5.5 million, with no more than $200,000 in tax credits awarded to any one project.	Applications Due February 15, 2022  As a partner in community development, the DED is committed to assisting nonprofit organizations and businesses with the YOP application process by offering technical assistance. Application workshops are conducted periodically during the year to assist organizations in preparing an application. The workshops are free and open to the public.	https://ded2.mo.gov/media/pdf/cy2022-yop-guidelines	Applications must meet eligibility and minimum score requirements to be approved. Once all applications have been scored, they will be ranked from highest to lowest and awarded until YOP credits have been exhausted.  Initial Screening -Applications will be initially screened to determine if basic eligibility requirements are met and the application is complete. For applicants that have previously been approved for YOP credits, it should be noted that past performance will also be considered in determining project approval.  Reviewing the Application - Once an application has met all basic eligibility requirements, the YOP team will review and score the written responses and the submitted budget. Points may be deducted from proposals if the applicant has a history with the Department of underutilization of credits, failure to meet reporting requirements, and/or failure to meet outcomes. Bonus points will be added to applications meeting the priority criteria outlined in Section II. The scoring matrix used in the review process is attached.
